RE: FOIA Appeal 2020-100

Dear Mr. Ayele:

This letter responds to the administrative appeal you submitted to the Mayor under the District of Columbia Freedom of Information Act, D.C. Code § 2-537 (“DC FOIA”), challenging the failure of the Department of Motor Vehicles (“DMV”) to respond to your FOIA request.

You submitted a FOIA request to DMV that consisted of a lengthy statement describing your employment relationship with a facility in a different state. You also attached a 12-page document entitled “Decade in Review” which also did not request any documents. On February 3, 2020, you filed an appeal with this Office. On February 13, 2020, DMV responded to your appeal stating that the agency conducted a search of its data systems and was unable to locate records responsive to your request.

FOIA requires that requests describe the records sought with sufficient detail to allow an agency employee familiar with the subject area of the request to locate the records within a reasonable amount of time. More specifically, 1 DCMR § 402.4 states that:

A request shall reasonably describe the desired record(s). Where possible, the specific information regarding names, places, events, subjects, dates, files, titles, file designation or other identifying information shall be supplied.

In addition, under FOIA, an agency “has no duty either to answer questions unrelated to document requests or to create documents.” Zemansky v. United States Env'tl. Prot. Agency, 767 F.2d 569, 574 (9th Cir. 1985). The law only requires the disclosure of nonexempt documents, not answers to interrogatories. Di Viaio v. Kelley, 571 F.2d 538, 542-543 (10th Cir. 1978). “FOIA creates only a right of access to records, not a right to personal services.” Hudgins v. IRS, 620 F. Supp. 19, 21 (D.D.C. 1985). See also Brown v. F.B.I., 675 F. Supp. 2d 122, 129-130 (D.D.C. 2009).

We have reviewed both your FOIA request and the appeal, which asked a different set of questions to DMV. We conclude that you did not ask for documents, although DMV in good faith conducted a search for documents. We therefore conclude that the DMV properly responded to your FOIA request and we hereby deny your appeal.

This constitutes the final decision of this Office. If you are dissatisfied with this decision, you may commence a civil action against the District of Columbia in the Superior Court of the District of Columbia in accordance with D.C. Code § 2-537.

Respectfully,

Mayor's Office of Legal Counsel
